AGE AND OUTBOARDS
While the various safety agencies are giving consideration to booting the older driver off the highways, they have been neglecting the problem of the two-year operator on power boats on the waterways. The latter is giving people in resort areas far more concern than the mature enough to operate a motor vehicle until they are 76 years of age but a child of 10, 12 or even younger, is permitted to take a fast outboard craft skimming over the water without any questions asked. This has caused many people to marvel at the incompetence of the law governing such things. Those close to the situation are inclined to query the wisdom of making it illegal for those under 18 to operate a motor vehicle while eyes are closed to those still in childhood who are operating power boats.

We do not advocate licensing of water craft operators. It might be like licensing of water safety to restrict operation of power craft in the same starting age as that applying to motor vehicles. It is logical to say a person is mature enough to operate a power boat but too young to handle a motor vehicle.

Matters of Interest

RELIEF FROM THOUGHT
Some autos now on the market have lights that come on when it is dark. No longer must the driver think about this. This is certainly a convenience. Another effort to relieve mankind from thinking has been made by the publishers of the book, "New Dictionary of Thoughts." Sales of this are running in the millions. "You need to get your brain . . . The book will make you a leader in culture and influence in the community." Twenty thousand thoughts, arranged alphabetically, are packed into the writings of about a thousand thinkers, most of them apparently having had not only one thought, but more than one.

Both the automatic auto lights and the book of automatic thoughts are products of free enterprise and show that a continues entering indeed, but business is cutting down on thought by bringing out these mind savers. Why business needs to help develop is a population of original to-itself thinkers. Only in this kind of mental atmosphere is business likely to be allowed elbow room to keep on producing new and better ideas and things. The whole philosophy of not having to notice what is not there is the same as not having to think about it. This might be attractive to governments and offers them a big future. Voters should become progressively easier to handle, with less danger of their wondering whether taxes really need to be so high, or whether the tax take is being spent wisely. In time, voters may stop wondering whether the government, the largest employer, with a staff of millions, is business likely to be allowed elbow room to keep on producing new and better ideas and things. —The Printed Word.

Turning Back The Calendar

AUGUST 3, 1910
The biennial excursion held at evening under the auspices of the Epworth League of Cambridge Street Methodist Church, was the most successful held this season. The steamer Stoney Lake was crowded with young people, and the sail to Fenelon Falls and return was thoroughly enjoyed. A stop was made at the Cataract Village for some time, affording many an hour of opportunity of visiting friends. The committee in charge as well as the excursionists are loud in their praise of the courtesy and kindness of the Captain and crew of the Stoney Lake.

AUGUST 3, 1935

Lindsay's Boy's Band is making a trip to Woodbridge with the intention of having a memorial service for their late bandmaster Mr. J. T. Shunk. It will be remembered that the boys tried to go last winter but due to the extreme cold were unable to make the trip. They are going to leave from mid-bank boats at 8:00 a.m. tomorrow and the return will be at 11 a.m. on the back of a grandeur in Woodbridge. Friends and acquaintances of the late Mr. Shunk are cordially invited to attend.

BRINGING UP FATHER

THE HUMAN MIND AND BODY

By Peter J. Sheen, M.D. F.R.C.P.
DANGER OF FLUOROSCOPIC EXAMINATIONS
Dear Dr. Steinhilber: I may be a bit old-fashioned, but I don't like the X-ray or fluoroscopic examination as tell as such from special X-rays. Yet, my doctor insists on making a fluoroscopic examination every time I go to the diaphragm, for finding calcium deposits in the arteries, three times a month. My wife is estimating the radiation of other blood vessels.

The same holds true for fluoroscopic examination every time I go to the diaphragm, for finding calcium deposits in the arteries, three times a month. My wife is estimating the radiation of other blood vessels. In other words, X-rays and fluoroscopes are used to tell us what is going on inside the body. It is just what I have been saying. DON'T let a specialist says there is a good reason.

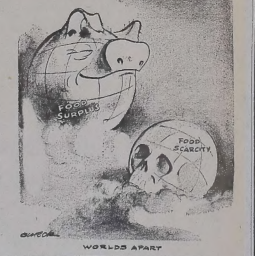

In a recent paper in the Journal of the American Medical Association by Dr. Eliot L. Lush and Henry J. Levine of Beverly Hills, California, it is stated that the radiation of the chest that can be detected from fluoroscopy of the chest cannot be detected from a goodly made film of the chest with greater accuracy and much less exposure to radiation.

Claim Scugog flows upstream during the spring runoff

The Scugog River sometimes flows upstream. There's proof for someone who likes to read in doubt and in case of flood proof of the statement from residents of south Lindsay in the springtime.

Following a discussion in council last night about a substance the water filtration plant is alleged to be pumping in the river below the intake pipe that's towards the head of lower the direction the river normally flows, two of the people attending made the claim that water had run up the river during the spring.

Those who have observed the phenomenon claim Scugog Lake is like a sander and when the spring break up comes, surplus runoff water flows up the river into the lake. This lasts for several days after which the river flows in a normal northerly direction.

Fifth offense, young woman gets 8 mos.

A young Kirkfield woman was sentenced to a reformatory term today in Lindsay magistrate's court, following a presentence report, on a charge of obtaining $200 from the Bank of Commerce under false pretences.

Irene Hodgson appeared this morning and Magistrate J. L. Moore sentenced her to eight months definite and six months indefinite in the Ontario Reformatory.

Magistrate Moore said that if he had been her first offence he might have given her a lighter sentence, however it was her fifth offence. It was learned that she used the name of her aunt on the cheques.

easy to remedy the situation. He went on to say he thought people could be pretty proud of the Lindsay water commission.

Turning to Mrs. Marland, Councillor Holton asked if he was correct in assuming she hoped to see this substance absorbed by the sewage system if it were installed. He said he understood the engineer was hoping to avoid taking such things into the sanitary sewer if and when it were built.

Mayor Burrows asked the town engineer if he thought the substance were of a nature detrimental to a sanitary sewer.

Town Engineer Timberlake replied that it would not ordinarily be put in a sanitary sewer. "It's just what has been taken out of the water in the first place and is being being put back into it below the intake pipe. The water board does not put it back in the river with chemicals added."

Mayor Burrows wondered if a substance could be piped directly into the river. Mr. DeGroot spoke to the subject again and agreed with Mr. Pepper that he felt it was in the water board knew raw sewage was being pumped into a ditch in that area. "It was our backs last year over a similar problem," he declared.

Mr. Holton: "Would you go ahead at $1 per foot the cost of installing sewers to service the area."

Mrs. Marland: "I would, I feel I must property them."

Councillor Holton said he was sort of puzzled. He stated that the health board knew raw sewage was being pumped into a ditch in that area. "It was our backs last year over a similar problem," he declared.

Use cow sense when feeding dairy ration

Nettie's been fresh only a short time. She is milking 90 pounds per day. She needs 34 to 36 pounds of grain milk per day to hold this production but gets only 10 pounds daily. Nettie's production drops to 40 pounds per day.

But take baby. She's produced only 25 pounds of milk yet she gets 10 pounds of grain just like Nettie.

When a cow needs 30 pounds of milk per day without any extra feed, then cut baby's grain feeding in half and add the extra 5 pounds to Nettie's ration. With the roughage baby will eat, she will probably be able to hold her production and gain in condition. More important, Nettie should be able to increase her 60-pound production.

"The point, of course, is that every cow doesn't need the same amount of feed. And if you are going right down the line giving each cow the same sized scoopful of feed, you are not getting the most out of your cows or herd."

Say Dr. Bruce Stone, Dairy Cattle Specialist at the O.A.C.: "If you're milking a cow that's 100 pounds of milk the heavy milkers often milk her for a short time and then she'll lose her milk."

"If a cow's production drops to the level that her feeding up production."

"On the other hand, the low producer gets more feed than she needs to produce milk and she puts on weight. A little weight in preparation for her next freshening is necessary, but she don't want to put on more fat than necessary."

Another point is that the low producer will eat less hay and because she's getting extra grain, her feeding costs go up needlessly. Heavy milkers however can't eat enough extra forage to hold up production.

Individual feeding doesn't take hours of figuring. You can do a workmanlike job in your head.

If forages are of high quality, a cow can produce as much as 20 pounds of milk per day on a 10-pound ration. If the forage is low, you must go to additional milk to meet feed concentrated sources.

"You can get a fairly close idea of the cow's needs if you feed a close ratio of grain to milk."

For more information, contact the Ontario Department of Agriculture, dairy researcher,

If you only have a few pounds of roughage, feed 1 pound of grain to 3 1/2 to 4 pounds of milk. High testing breeds such as Guernseys and Jerseys need 1 1/2 to 2 pounds of grain for each 3 to 3 1/2 pounds of milk.

Less grain is needed with good roughage. For hay and silage of exceptional quality, you need only 1 pound of grain for each 4 to 5 pounds of milk for Holsteins. The other breeds can be raised proportionately.

When a cow is not to dry off, and in this, she should get more feed than the thumb-rule calls for. And if she's put on too much fat, cutting her down on her grain, growing her feed should be fed enough to keep them healthy and growing.

"Good feeding still calls for cow sense and judgment. The best way to get the cow's ear to the needs of each cow than giving the same amount of feed to all."

"Candi" the elephant pays a social call

Acton, Cal. Aug. 2 (UPI)—No, not a unicorn in the garden. Just an elephant in the house. Candi, a four-year-old elephant, paid a social call to a family pacherider. Candi is real, weighing a quarter of a million, weighing a quarter of a million.

Seems Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Land were sitting on the front porch with their 3-year-old grandson last night, watching the sun go down through the trees. Mr. Land said, "We all screamed and ran into the house."

But they forgot to lock the back door and Candi butted it meeting her. The owner failed to lock the back door.

They tried to leave Candi in the front door, but she bellowed at walking down four steps.

Candi was thirsty after a four-mile walk, and the Lands were concerned in getting her to amble out through the back door into the yard for several buckets of water.

When Candi came to the front door, she got her out, the family rushed inside and looked at all the doors and the windows. Candi was thirsty after a four-mile walk, and the Lands were concerned in getting her to amble out through the back door into the yard for several buckets of water.

No guarantee pint of beer would be left in his car

Crown Attorney Jordan filed today to get a guarantee that someone would leave a bottle of beer or any whiskey left in his car if he parked it outside a Bobcaygeon dance hall. The guarantee was not forthcoming when he put the proposition to a man he was charging in court here today.

A charge of having liquor in a place other than his home was laid against Mr. N. McNeil of Bobcaygeon when both he and his wife were charged with having any liquor in the car. Mr. McNeil was charged when a bottle of beer was found in the trunk, corresponding with an empty bottle found beside his car, was found in the back seat of his car at Bobcaygeon dance hall July 24 by Chief L. James, of the police.

Chief James said he had been checking the dance when he had found the bottle beside his car. There were no other cars near that of the accused.

This is the story of a youth who has not yet had sex to work, he complains the job and the finished product was a sawtooth car.

Mr. McNeil said that just what he wanted in a way and he kept thinking about getting the real McCoy.

This summer when the Minden carnival drew for a strong was his desire to have a hot girl on his hands. He was not going to let lack of funds stand in his way. Gathering up the basic materials which he used in the building of a small boat, he set to work last winter in the basement of his home.

The name of the youth is David Stoenhouse and a strong was his desire to have a hot girl on his hands. He was not going to let lack of funds stand in his way. Gathering up the basic materials which he used in the building of a small boat, he set to work last winter in the basement of his home.

Lindsay says CNE's first prize

Mr. Jim Wallace of R. No. 1 Lindsay won a first prize in the Canadian National Exhibition in the handicraft competition class for Wood Carving. Mr. Wallace received the $25.00 Special Award presented by the Alkenhead Handicrafts Ltd. for the best art carved from wood.

His wife, Mrs. J. Wallace, Manager of the CNE Women's Division said that this year increased quantity as well as marked improvement in quality kept the judges busy for three hectic days. Entries were received from such widely separated places as Kentucky and England, as well as from all parts of the province.

Handicrafts receiving special awards will be on display in the beautiful Queen Elizabeth building during the Exhibition from August 24th to September 10th.

Bought abnormal amount liquor, declare home public place

Lindsay man was fined $80.49 in Lindsay court this morning for buying an abnormal amount of liquor not for his own personal and his home was declared a public place.

Donald Houston of 86 St. Patrick St. was charged on August 7th, by Sgt. G. Elliott of the Lindsay Police Department. The charge was originally keeping liquor for sale and was reduced to the lesser one when it was learned the first one was not held up, as the defendant did not sell any liquor and it was not abnormal for him to keep such a quantity.

Sgt. Elliott told the court he had been on patrol when he had seen a car back up at the door of the Houston house. He said he followed the car to the home of W. H. Huff.

Mr. Houston stated he had been in the house of W. H. Huff when the police had accosted him. He said it was $80.49.

arrangement with Lindsay Council. Mr. Hutton says he has received a request to this effect from a resident of the village, Jacqueline is a Kananis township which has steadily refused to meet Lindsay's terms for providing fire protection.

A number of people are hoping we'll have a summer this year since the regular summer season seems to have been cancelled.

Hit song of the current season: "Throw another log on the fire."

Several property owners in the section of Ops which Lindsay expects to take over think it will matter one way or the other to them. Those north of highway 76 feel a protest would be of little avail because the town has already run its water line out to the site of the approved grid.

Some on the south side of the highway shrug their shoulders and say they expect it won't make much difference. They already have their services systems installed. Ops has passed up the idea and they only change their heads as the possibility of lower hydro rates when they switch from rural to town service.

The power of the Water Ward Motel says there's nothing he isn't going to do and it's after his source of drinking water—"We have an excellent source now," he declared as he discussed the possibility of annexation.

Service station operators take a different view. They don't like the thoughts of conforming to the existing "hourly" basis 'b'lay now in effect in Lindsay.

People who visited Toronto in Carnarvon the other day thought for a while the management must be celebrating something or other. He was giving away roses. It turns out that a summer festival or who cultivates roses had a forced cutting and he gave away something like 20,000 roses rather than waste them.

Lindsay had a two-person demonstration on its main street yesterday, but it sort of fizzled out after Police Chief

Chatterbox

— by Millicent —

The woman who likes to make her own clothes is often frustrated because newly-developed fabrics are first introduced in ready-to-wear garments. Sometimes it takes months for them to become available by the yard.

However, this year home sewers are being offered a wide choice of fabrics. The textile battalions which have secured such a success in wash-and-wear dress, for instance is now on yard goods counters in an array of prints and plaids in ready-to-wear garments.

Sewing with a man-made fibre calls for a slight variation in the usual sewing technique. Here are a few pointers:

The thread and bindings used should be chosen so they will have the same wash-and-wear qualities as the fabric. Use terylene thread and shrinkproof seam binding.

There will be no danger of seams puckering in the wash. Test the machine tension on a scrap of fabric. It may have to be loosened slightly. Make sure the needle is sharp — a jagged edge will snag the exceedingly strong fibres in the fabric.

As in any dressmaking project, each seam should be pressed as it is stitched, before the garment is put together, and make sure that darts and seams are in the right position before pressing. Sharp creases are sometimes difficult to remove once they have been pressed into a synthetic fabric.

Allow a generous seam when trying of raw edges may be a problem. In a firmly-woven cloth, pinning will be adequate prevention but many fabrics made of man-made fibres will need to have raw edges over-stitched or turned under and machine-stitched.

Alfalfa cut in October survives better than alfalfa cut in September

An official at the Central Experimental Farm in Ottawa reports that alfalfa cut in October survives better than that cut in September in Eastern Ontario and Western Quebec.

But, warns L. P. Folkins when alfalfa is cut in October, it should not be cut or grazed too closely since a good stubble will hold the snow and give the plants some protection.

When alfalfa is harvested in September, he says, the aftermath sees the stored nutrients stored in the roots and there is not enough time for reserves to be replenished completely before winter sets in.

Replenishment of food reserves begins when plants have about three weeks' growth. If harvest is delayed until some time in October, food reserves will have been built up and not much of them will be used by alfalfa to break growth almost stops at this time of year.

In winter survival tests at Ottawa, plots of an alfalfa-timothy mixture were cut five times each year for two years. The fifth cut was harvested at different dates in the fall.

The effect of the date of fall clipping was apparent in the third year when all plots were harvested at the same time in June. Those that had previously been cut in October had a higher yield of alfalfa and a higher percentage of alfalfa in the mixture, than those cut in September.

RABY VACCINE

Shipments of rabies vaccine are being prepared by the Canada Department of Agriculture's Health of Animals Division for transport in the Arctic.

The vaccine is being shipped there where about 15-hundred dogs are treated annually in the Northwest Territories.

The vaccine is distributed and administered by R-C-M-P officers for use on their own dogs and on many native dogs, so can be vaccinated.

Injured in fatal crash, being treated at RMH

The condition of Mrs. Mary Howard, a passenger in a car involved in a two-car accident on Highway 35 late Friday afternoon in which one man was killed, is described as fairly stable following this morning.

Wm. Peters, 54, of Toronto, died instantly of a fractured skull after being struck by a light green sedan delivery van which was in collision with his car on Highway 35 near Highway 10. Occupants of the car were Mr. A. Howard, 37, of Dundas, his wife Mary and their two sons, 14 and 10.

Mrs. Howard is in Room Memorial Hospital with multiple injuries and is fractured right arm.

The accident, which was described as a rare head-on, occurred one half-mile south of the village of Cameron at approximately 6:30 a.m. Friday.

Dr. W. R. Crook, Lindsay was the attending coroner. McArthur's Ambulance moved the injured to hospital from the scene of the accident.

Constable H. Cook of the Lindsay OPP was the investigating officer.

Greater price support for better quality butter already bears results

The Canada Department of Agriculture reports that government policy of giving the greater price support to better quality butter has already borne results.

The Agricultural Statistics Board... since May 1981, 1960... has been paying one cent per pound more for 85 score butter than for 92 score product.

The effect of this incentive to improve the quality of first grade creamery butter is shown in the grading figures for May to late June 1982. The 45-point-two million pounds of butter contained 15.5-point-five million pounds of butter scoring 85 points or higher. During this same period last year, 45-point-four million pounds was graded and contained only 14.5-point-million pounds of the higher grade.

The figure has therefore jumped from 31 per cent last year to 34-point-three per cent this year.

Greater efficiency in production has been achieved by the installation in recent years

It was arrested over the weekend and was out on bail to court today. Mr. Houston told Magistrate R. L. Moore he was supposed to go to St. Catharines to see his brother, but his brother told him he had better wait until after his hearing.

A new red Chevrolet motor was stolen from a marina owned by Eric Thompson of Colborne in a two-car accident on Highway 35 near Highway 10. The motor had been left outside overnight and at approximately 10:30 a.m. a person was seen to enter the area and is reported to have been carrying it off.

No further information is available concerning it. The matter is under investigation by Constable DeLaunier.

Ambition realized

Whitney, Aug. 8 (UPI)—A man who asked Saturday whether his float plane, which was submerged with only the tail above water, was sank in Lake McKenna and three close friends were nearly drowned trying to rescue the trapped fish.

Robert Grossberg, aged 40, had just landed a small plane at his cottage by the lake and had taken off again when the Tiger dived and struck the lake, which is about 12 miles south of Whitney, was littered with debris as the plane smashed into the water from over 75 feet.

Weekend guests Dr. Richard Duggan, of Niagara Falls and Harry Long and Max Heinrich, both of Peterborough, raced up in boats to the plane, which was submerged with only the tail above water.

They attached lines to the tail and Heinrich and Grossberg apparently unconscious and slumped over his safety belt still attached. The rescuer got the fish caught in the shattered fuselage. He freed himself and dived again only to be dragged further down as the plane sank.

Heinrich made it to the surface a second time to find the two rescue boats being sucked under by the sinking aircraft. And he and the other two would-be rescuers were picked

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Thain were weekend visitors at Silver Beach Lodge.

Mr. George Anderson who has been holidaying at Redstone has arrived back and home.

Every August, the tarnished plant bug sets to work in earnest. The home garden is his workshop and few vegetables, fruits or flowers escape him.

The adult is a fragile, brownish bug with mottled red or yellow markings. Not every gardener has been able to find them, as the bug is only a quarter inch long and it makes a hasty retreat when disturbed.

So, all you can see is the damage — mottled leaves, scarred leaf petioles and deformed buds. The insect achieves this by sucking the sap from the plants and injecting a poison that causes some of the unusual symptoms.

When the injury is first seen, it pays to treat the surrounding plants as well as those affected. Use either spray or dust and repeat treatments every ten days.

Entomologists with the Ontario Department of Agriculture suggest the following controls:

- 5% DDT dust.
- 50% DDT wettable powder — 3 tablespoons per gallon of water; the growing tips and buds should be well covered.
- Malathion is also recommended, but it requires treatments every two or three days.
- Malathion will kill the bugs, provided that they are sprayed directly with the material.

is staying with his sister, Mrs. Nettie Ensign.

THE LITTLE WOMAN

"It's in perfect shape, madam. We've been over it from bumper to bumper."

Army officer describes daughter as tomboy

A Canadian Army lieutenant-colonel describes his daughter as a girl who "until a few years ago had a dirty face, wore jeans and could outfight any boy."

But last week this tomboy girl was crowned with a diamond tiara as Miss Canada for 1964.

His Elaine Thurlwell of Toronto, 19-year-old daughter of Lieutenant-Colonel William Thurlwell, is the 15th girl to have become Miss Canada. The pug-nosed, freckle-faced beauty agrees with her father and friends' opinion of her tomboy nature.

Entering the Miss Canada Pageant August after winning the Miss Northtown competition last month, Iris faced 22 other Canadian beauties in her quest for the title which is worth at least five-thousand dollars.

Shocked and unable to speak, Iris staggered under the weight of the purple velvet cape which was placed on her shoulders by Miss Canada of last year, Rosemary Keenan.

Before a crowd of seven-hundred persons, and under the glow of hot movie television and newspaper camera lights Iris struggled hard to find words to describe her immediate thoughts. "I know what Cinderella must have felt like," she beamed, "I'm on top of the world and it's great."

She was used for second place on points as the contest entered the final night. She failed to place on opening night, but won the balling beauty contest.

A high school graduate this year, Iris plans to use her one-thousand dollar scholarship to study fine arts at the Ontario College of Art where she hopes to graduate with a degree.

"Iris can outshoot some of the best," her father explained, following his daughter's coronation, "she shoots and rides like Annie Oakley. A real tomboy, and she's going to leave a big gap in our family when she starts her travels."

The Cinderella Queen herself says she likes rifle shooting and horseback riding. Her father says she shot in the high 90's and has beaten some of the best Army rifle shots on the Toronto range.

"She hunts, she fishes, she sketches, she sings and she's my favorite fishing companion, but I've sure gained a beauty queen," says the proud father.

Iris leaves for Atlantic City and the Miss America Pageant in two weeks. . . during the next year the Canadian beauty will travel in Europe, the British Isles and across the North American continent, as well as stopping in Hollywood for a screen test.

She admits she has a steady boyfriend and says she would give up a career if she has one when she turns 21, to get married. "I guess I want about three kids," she says.

Excavation work underway

Excavation work on the Ontario girls' training school being built just west of Lindsay on the north side of Highway 78 got underway early Monday morning. Gordon Sledzarski of Sunderland Haulage and Excavating Ltd. is shown as he is building a road into the property preparatory to starting the big excavation job. Below are a group of ambitious men who were on the scene to be first in line for any available jobs. Left to right are Mill Sear, Lawrence and Grant Windham, Harold Coulter and Stuart Thorne. The first load of building material was delivered by Lindsay Coal Co. Ltd. with driver Wm. (Bill) Henley at the wheel. The Leonard Atlas Construction Co. of Oshawa is the general contractor and the firm said before the job was started it would probably have between 60-60 men on its own payroll at its peak.

ESPIONAGE TRIAL OF FRANCIS POWERS BEGINS

The espionage trial of U-2 pilot Francis Powers began Monday's glittering Hall of Villains party with a plea of guilty by Powers. When Powers, who is 31, to day . . . first stepped into the room, he gazed steadily through the lights toward the spot where his wife and parents were seated. His wife, Barbara—dressed in black as were his parents—lowered her head into her hands, overcome with grief. The guilty plea, entered two hours after the trial began, was expected. Soviet handlers previously had announced that the young and handsome pilot would not deny the Soviet charge. He faced a possible death sentence if convicted. However, the three-man military court could give him only seven to fifteen years. After reading the four thousand word indictment and informing Powers of his rights, a judge asked if the charge was true . . . if he pleaded guilty. The pilot replied: "Yes, I plead guilty." Under questioning he did not deny that he had violated Soviet air space . . . and said he did not think he doubted that his May 1st flight over Soviet territory was an act of espionage. Powers gave a calm recital of what happened on that flight. He told his questioners that the plane had been hit at an altitude of 68,000 feet . . . after his mission was accomplished . . . so far as he could tell. He said he was unable to use the ejection seat because of gravity . . . so he opened the canopy of his plane, released the seat belt, tumbled out of the plane and parachuted to earth. Powers was asked why, after his capture by the Russians, he did not use a poison needle he admitted having with him on the flight. He said it was for use in case of torture . . . and that he had not been tortured. Powers appeared to be in good health. He told questioners he was hired by the Central Intelligence Agency and trained in high altitude flight at a salary of 25-thousand dollars a month. As for his plane, Powers said he could not have dropped an atomic bomb. He also said he had no means of carrying such a bomb. He said he was sure the wreckage of the plane he was shown in a park in Moscow was his plane. The first session of the trial lasted four hours.

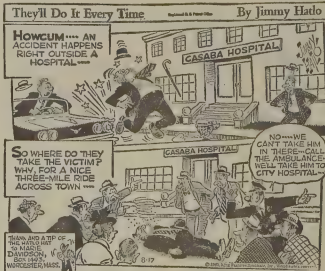

IMMIGRATION DEPT. CHARGED WITH STRIKE BREAKING

A union official has charged the Immigration Department with strike-breaking by prosecuting British seamen who walk off British ships in Canadian ports. George Harris—Secretary-general of the United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers Union—says that in forcing British seamen to return to their ships or face prosecution the Immigration officials have stepped in on the side of the shipowners against the crewmembers. Meanwhile, the Canadian liner "Sylvia" docked at Quebec City this morning following an Atlantic crossing during which passengers had to take on the duties of the striking crewmembers. In Montreal, the sailing of Canadian Pacific liner "Engens of France" has been held up because of a walkout by 250 of the ship's one-thousand crewmembers. Another liner—the 30-thousand ton cargo-passenger "Laconia" is also being delayed by the walkout.

PLANS TO CARRY OUT ENGINEERING PROJECT

Canada's 67th signal squadron plans to carry out a major radio engineering project in the troubled Congo. The squadron has sent a Canadian reconnaissance party into the Congo interior on a survey to set up a communications system which will serve a million square miles of Congo territory. The reconnaissance system—when completed—will link the capital—Léopoldville—with the outlying provinces.

CTC separates men from boys, boys take initial game 9-4

Canadian Tire Softballers separated the men from the boys last night at Victoria Park but the boys won. Canadian Tire defeated Bagshaw Lumber 9-4 to take a one game lead in the best of three semi-final series. Bob Oswald drove the first and the Tremmen giving up six hits while his mate, bunted and batted an even dozen safeties. Canadian Tire took the win in three bursts starting with the first inning when they batted around to score three and leave the bases loaded. McGill fanned the eighth and ninth bats to snuff the rally. Their second threesome came in the third, and three more in the eighth. Bagshaw scored three in the fifth, and one in the eighth. Oswald struck out five and walked three. McGill fanned seven and walked seven.

Canadian Tire started out pretty eagerly in the first inning. Ken Jackett walked. Wainman sacrificed him to second. Don Jackett and Ashmore each bunted safely to load the bases. Bruce Reid lined a triple into the left field trees for three r.b.i.s. Biles walked and May beat out a bunt to load the sacks again, but McGill fanned Oswald and Jackson. Their three in the third came after two were out. Biles doubled to left. May and Oswald walked to load the bases. The second inning was a rout. Why? Because of the heat from Coleman's famous "Blue-Hibben" heater and to warm the same . . . not wanted up the chimney. You'll get EXTRA heat. EXTRA comfort and lower gas bills with a Coleman. There's a beautiful, money-saving, super-quiet Coleman that's just right for your home or your entire home. In beautiful mahogany or modern hard-wood finish. Come in and see us.

THERE NEVER WAS A TIME

There never was a time in the history of man when people were subjected to many conflicting ideologies, when so many conflicts reigned in the midst of the average person. They got it from all sides—by direct mail, through the news, the radio, the television, the press, or that a lot of people are confused and it will be a miracle if a dangerous degree of apathy doesn't result. In fact, hasn't already started to set in.

There are times when strong leadership along lines which are apt to contribute most to the welfare of the nation and the world is vital. The need for uniting the forces of the good against the forces of evil was never more urgent or more apparent than it is today. It is becoming more obvious by the hour that unless this chaotic world, with the well-known forces of evil are wading themselves into a position to gain their objective, world domination.

There is a time when men of good intent needed to be directed, foregoing petty dogmatic bickering in the interests of the general welfare of the world's people.

A SHIPWRECK AT THE ONE

Several months ago there was considerable effort put forth to persuade Lindsay to acquire a steam locomotive for historical purposes and have it permanently displayed in a central part of town. There was also a great deal of opposition to the idea, the opposition forces apparently coming out on top.

According to the report that the Canadian National Exhibition—one of the largest annual shows in the world—has seen fit to have a large model steam locomotive placed in the fair grounds in the heart of public interest.

Admittedly, the CNE last year only a couple of weeks each year and the problem of permanent maintenance doesn't enter into the picture of this year's exhibition.

It is a pity, however, it would not be surprising to learn that exhibition executive eventually gets around to finding a permanent place for just such a machine.

We are rapidly leaving the age of steam motive power, and either a steam locomotive or a steam threshing engine or both seem like sensible museum pieces for towns for railroad and farming communities in which Lindsay has developed. If the display of such equipment is desired for a successful enterprise such as the CNE, why isn't it interested in Lindsay?

Matters of Interest

AFTER THE BALL

The Victoria Times recorded on May 21, 1957—that was an election year, as we recall—on that John Diefenbaker was elected.

"The plight of municipalities is becoming tragic. It is becoming a constant increase in federal taxes. It is the responsibility of the federal government to assure that the municipalities are able to carry out their responsibilities. The time has come for a meeting of the provinces and federal government, with the municipalities to discuss these problems... We intend to convene such a meeting."

Nine, three years later, the Prime Minister is asked if the municipalities will be getting out from under the problems at the current Federal/Provincial Conference. His reply, recorded in Hansard:

"The municipalities are the creation of the several provinces. The provincial legislatures may, if they so decide, have representatives of municipalities as part of the provincial representation."

The concern of 1957, it would seem, has given way to the legislation of 1960.

DOG DAYS

Feeling kind of tired these days, sort of worn out and ready to take a nap on the slightest provocation. Your feelings are probably shared by thousands of people in this part of the world, a sultry period of the year.

We have heard about this for years, but we are in the midst of the Dog Days, a sultry period of the year extending from four to six weeks between early July and early August. However, this year the weather is just what we need during the Dog Days, a sultry period of the year extending from four to six weeks between early July and early August, when the sultry close of summer generally reaches its peak. These days were a common-sense thing, but these days were somehow connected with driving dogs, brought about by the fact that dogs like humans, seem to be able to molest much during this period.

It is probably known, "Dog Days" really derived their name from heavenly dogs. The word "canicular" is the technical term for this season and it was coined from the fact that the constellation of the star Sirius, the "canicular" meaning "dog" canicular pertains to the "Dog Days" (July-August). Webster's International Dictionary informs us that the word "canicular" is "pertaining to, or measured by the rising of either Dog Star. The two dog stars are known as Canis Major and Canis Minor. The dog star is found in a constellation of the same name, the constellation Orion. The Great Dog, Canis Minor, is a constellation to the east of Orion, containing Procyon, the Lesser Dog.

In the light of this, if you feel as though you're going to the dogs' these days, it's probably the heavenly influence of Canis Major or Canis Minor, or both. In a word, it's the dog days, brought about by the fact that blame it on the dogs, but not on those of earthly origin.

BASIC RIGHT

A notion official masterminding a strike in an Ontario town has reacted with furious indignation to the statement that the union of the plant that he is complaining is his employer for good unless the strike is called to a halt.

But what is there to get hot under the collar about it? Just as no man in a truly free country can be made to work for a strike that he agreed to, so no man can be compelled to keep open his business if he decides that his best interests lie in closing it down.

That's his right. —Industry.

But why so late?

There has been considerable interest in the girls' training school which is shortly to be built in Ops town, within the area Lindsay is in line to annex next January 1st. The interest began a couple of years ago when the provincial planning just west of the present town limits was officially opened by Premier Leslie Frost. At that time he made it clear the government planned to erect a girls' training school and just outside the province in connection with this provincial building site. As a matter of fact, after the premier had opened the present provincial building, the girls' training school on the highway to near the junction of 7B and 3B where Mr. Frost turned the sod for the training school.

It is always to be expected in cases like this that the opposition party will raise some. It is its duty to try "playing politics" but that someone is showing favoritism, etc. People would be disappointed if it didn't. But in the case at hand, one is prone to ask, "So late?"

Surely, if there were real grounds for protest, the opposition has taken a long time to get around to it. To paraphrase a line from a prisoner's lament: "Two years is a mighty long time." The time to have raised a broadside at the project was when it was first announced, not after the contract has been let.

THE "SINISTER CREEK" IS NOT HARD TO FIND

The "sinister creek" is referred to by Chas. R. Brett in his letter to this paper as if bad fishing off in the Scupper River on Lindsay's northern outskirts is not hard to find. You could reach it by following your nose from a part of town when the prevailing wind is from the north-east.

To reach the "sinister creek," you have only to drive north on the highway and turn right at the intersection of Caroline St. Instead of turning right, drive straight ahead onto the grassland, park your car, and walk towards the first house on the left. You will find the creek before you. If—of your nose lets you get that far—you will come to the mouth of "sinister creek." From there it is a simple matter to find the creek and the creek is not hard to find. You can leave your car on the creek, observe the two sewers which feed into the Scupper River at this point. One is a very obvious and porous village and the other is a small, narrow, and deep. The creek is under and its discharge is not so readily apparent.

The creek itself has its moments—A certain period of the day it carries a heavy load of water. The creek is under and its discharge is not so readily apparent. The creek itself has its moments—A certain period of the day it carries a heavy load of water. The creek is under and its discharge is not so readily apparent.

By the way, the sewer from the area around the mouth of "sinister creek" is readily distinguishable from fresh air and it makes its impression on your nose. This impression is so strong that if the wind is blowing from the mouth of the creek to your part of town, you will have no difficulty recognizing the source of the foul-smelling air.

As to the sewage disposal plant, one of which is obviously pouring its filth into the river, it is a sewage disposal plant pumping station is located almost straight ahead of the creek. It is a simple matter to find the plant.

It is interesting to recall that the town's sewage disposal plant was laying out a mandatory order to the Ontario Dept. of Health which seems to have neglected to make sure such plants were complete and efficient.

The Commission called a field day around Lindsay, peering the finger on such things as this.

Lindsay has recently been authorized to annex 2,150 acres of Ops Township but the sort of thing referred to here suggests it should first put its own house in good order and then expand.

For folks who say that the "sinister creek" the Lindsay Board of Health shouldn't have any trouble locating it and it is likely it will find it has a clear-cut duty to perform in ordering that the situation be remedied.

SEAT BELT STATISTICS

CHICAGO—Persons thrown from cars in traffic accidents are five times more likely to be killed than those who wear their seat belts.

That fact is contained in the 1960 edition of "Accident Facts," statistical yearbook of the National Safety Council.

A Cornell University study showed that users of seat belts have 60 per cent less chance of injury in a traffic accident than people who don't use the belts.

For folks who say that the "sinister creek" the Lindsay Board of Health shouldn't have any trouble locating it and it is likely it will find it has a clear-cut duty to perform in ordering that the situation be remedied.

Radio in every office in 10 years?

Radio, like telephones, will be necessary office fixtures within 10 years, Canadian radio predicts.

Most of Canada's 290 radio stations have adopted the most-waiver type of programming, introduced last year by CKLW in Windsor. The stations cater to tourists, tourists and housewives; have traded "rock and roll" for "sweet sound" and have transferred drama to TV.

In protest of gambling

The People Write

Lindsay Daily Post, Dear Editor:

I think it's high time the authorities of the town of Lindsay reviewed the extensive gambling in this town. It has got that one cannot walk down the main street without someone thrusting a book of draw tickets at you. This includes more children 9 to 14 years of age than the number of modern gambling. Every body knows the temptation there is when a child has a handful of money and a store-full of money. The people responsible for issuing these tickets to children are contributing to juvenile delinquency.

Irish sweep tickets are no exception, these are available in the town of Lindsay. The bingos are another cure of the community. There used to be a big night every night except Sunday. Maybe there still is, I don't know. These games are to be held on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday, Saturday at different places and by different Incidentally, the draw just concluded for the Boat, Trailer and Motor was, in my opinion, not how the Chamber of Commerce is to be a charitable institution. I may be wrong, I am, I stand to be corrected.

Lindsay used to have a reputation for being next to nowhere. Now it is a town of 15,000 people. Lindsay's reputation for gambling is well known.

BREAKING TINGLED TAD BADLINS AREA

A rash of breakins which were reported in this district seems to have moved to the Brooklyn area. Several breakins were broken into around Lindsay and in one instance a poor cooler was smashed and a small change. A watering trough was stolen from a farm and a pig was killed.

This development tends to link the events at Lindsay with the breakins in the area. A pig-pen machine was broken open, a pump was damaged and vandals acts committed.

In Lindsay district Wednesday early this morning the following incidents are reported:

The incursion stations and box office at the Lindsay Drive Theatre, the Bonfire Restaurant, the Roblin Farm and J. Moore Farm Restaurant; offices at Lindsay and the Bar service station at Omenne were broken into.

CHEQUE MISSING

A $500 cheque is missing from Roblin Farm Supply where a small amount of change was taken from a cash machine. Several tools and tools and welding equipment also are missing.

Entry was gained by prying open a window. It was the second break-in at Roblin's this year.

At the Driveline, windows were broken and the contents of the machine looted around. "They were obviously after money, but there was none there," said operator Barney Rogers.

Mr. Rogers said it was his second break-in at the place. The last was in July of last week. About $12 in cash was taken last Friday night.

A window was also broken at the Watson Equipment and depot on the Penzance highway where about $5 in change was taken from a cash.

The break-in at the Bonfire Restaurant was one of a series, but the thieves left empty-handed. The restaurant was cleared when the restaurant closed Wednesday night. Entry was made by prying open a window in the washrooms.

At Omenne, Police Chief James is looking for those responsible for entering Wallerman and Richards' store where the stolen items were taken.

Mr. Frost goes to a picnic

Premier Leslie Frost was on familiar ground when he attended a Women's Progressive Conservative Association picnic at Pleasant Point this week. It was the first time since he left office, Cecil had been in town when Pleasant Point was becoming an increasingly popular picnic spot.

During the picnic at Mr. and Mrs. Syd Eldeen's cottage, the premier and his wife and his brother set up business.

Wednesday was a big day for the Weston Smiths

Everybody who attends the football games in Victoria Park was interested in when the wedding which took place at Lindsay this week. The ceremony was interesting because one of the key figures in the affair was better known to them than the bride and groom.

Mr. Weston (West) Smith is the groom and the bride and the occasion was the 50th wedding anniversary he and his wife celebrated on Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith disclosed some of the courage displayed in pioneer days when they recalled that his father—John Smith—made the trip from Port Hope to Kent township on foot and carrying a chicken which was to be the first piece of farm stock on the land he was going to till.

The couple both aged 74, the leading man and the bride were married in 1930 at Cook of Pension Falls at Sturgeon Point. Aug. 10, 1910 they were able to say they were married 50 years to the day because August 10th, 1910 fell on a Wednesday too.

John Smith, a son of John Smith was born in Somerville Township. Her husband lived at the place until 1910 when he moved to Emily Township—until he was 21.

Smith worked by trade, Mr. Smith worked for many years with the L. T. Branton Construction Company here. O'Connor was a carpenter on the building of the

Propane gas poisoning suspect in cabin deaths

Toronto, Aug. 12—(UPI)—The Attorney General's office today in an investigation of the deaths of three Americans in a cottage on 1000 north of Blind River, was suspected due to propane gas poisoning.

The victim, Sylvester Gignolet, 62, of Portland, Indiana, was found dead yesterday in a cottage on 1000 north of Blind River. His wife and daughter, who were found unconscious, are in critical condition in Blind River hospital.

Cornor Dr. Peter J. Gignolet says an autopsy has indicated that Gignolet died from the propane gas stove or refrigerator in the cottage.

Provincial Police may copy a bird up in a fishing cabin near Kincardine to find propane gas is leaking in the cabin where two Minnesota men died July 28.

Phil Berberich, aged 67, and 63-year-old Frank Johnson, both of Ada, Minnesota, were found dead in the cabin together. Police attributed the deaths to propane gas poisoning, but found the gas refrigerator to be in perfect working order.

Hull-less seeded pumpkins may become a valuable crop

Cool Canadian weather brings thoughts of autumn. The Canada Department of Agriculture reports that hull-less seed pumpkins may become a valuable crop of Canadian gardens and farms.

Federal agriculture says the hull-less seed pumpkins are being developed at the Morden, Manitoba Experimental Farm.

These seeds, which pumpkins are tasty and nutritious as a confection and as a source of oil content of hull-less pumpkins.

Seeds of ordinary pumpkins have hard hulls that may be difficult to remove. Seedless varieties are ready for use as soon as they are removed from the pumpkins. Hull-less pumpkin seed may be as high as 65 per cent. For this reason, it is known as the oil squash in Austria, where it has grown extensively for many years.

The seed has served as a valuable food supplement during difficult economic periods and in times of war. The fleshy part of the pumpkins is usually prepared for livestock feed and fertilizer.

The Austrian oil squash makes a valuable food for growing in short-season areas.

In Morden, it was crossed with early-ripening, common varieties for developing suitable pumpkins. The result was these compact, bushy plants that produce many fruits which bulble seeds in each.

They are well-suited to field production and may be adapted to mechanical, seed-batching methods.

Some of these new strains now being developed are not yet available for general distribution.

$1,348,000 job lasting 78 weeks

An estimated 100 people are expected to be employed on the construction of the Girls Training School west of Lindsay when work gets underway.

While an official announcement hasn't been made by the Ontario Dept. of Public Works, the publication "Commercial News" has indicated the contract is likely to be awarded to the Len Arias Construction Co. at Guelph.

Value of the contract is reported to be $1,348,000 and the time expected to be required to complete the building is estimated at 78 weeks.

The construction company says it still has not received the official award. However, a company official — Wally Hamberg—says there have been indications it may receive the official award soon.

Contractor Len Arias is reported to have discussed excavation work with a Sunderland contractor over the weekend. Mr. Arias has a summer home in the Bockgoyen area. Mr. Hamberg also told "The Post" the company has been contacted by suppliers and sub-contractors to get something definite on the contract. "But we can't do a thing until the official award is in our hands."

Mr. Bernard Stanley, National Employment Service, Lindsay, is reported to have been in Guelph over the week-end at which time he brought the probable contractor up-to-date in the labour situation in Lindsay.

Site of the projected training school is the northeast corner of Highway 78 and 35th, north of Lindsay.

Now...hear about the garbage train

A UPI FEATURE

You've heard about the gray train.

Now...hear about the garbage train.

Somewhere today a train is hauling a partial load of garbage...and housewives are paying a good deal of the freight.

Aboard the train are extra leaves of lettuce, cauliflower and other expendables that millions of North American housewives will pay for...fruit and vegetables spoilage amount to two and one-half billion dollars a year.

Getting down to earth...say the train is hauling cauliflower from the Texas Rio Grande Valley to sell in stores at 29 cents a pound. About six and one-half cents of the retail price is the cost to the consumer of hauling inedible stalks and leaves to the dump.

Suppose the train is hauling lettuce from California. A container corporation of America study of Boston supermarkets shows that half the lettuce headed for Boston, for example, disappears by the time the housewife buys it.

The rest...which she has paid for...is trimmed away and discarded. But the Boston shopper pays freight on the full 100 per cent.

James B. Moore, of the Container Corporation of America, told UPI that "apparently is another vegetable pointing up the bill from farm to family table is mainly to blame, in his opinion."

More says waste in the fresh produce business and yet the housewife, whose dollar ultimately pays the bill from farm to family table is mainly to blame, in his opinion.

"If the housewife didn't insist on being able to pinch and poke and probe the vegetables and fruit she buys...the packaging of these items could cut down immeasurably on what she pays over the year for food she cannot use."

Moore says packaging by greener, whiter, or retainer would cut extra shipping and repackaging expenses and give the consumer more for her food dollar.

Weigh scales weigh heavy, on council

The weigh scales of Lindsay, are something of a weight on town council. It wants to get them off its hands, but no one has offered to take them.

Gordon Pepper said this council that no repiles had been received from ads put in local and industrial papers, but they were to be continued. Mr. Pepper stated, he had been quite busy recently and could not give his full attention to the problem of the scales. He also said he did not think it was an urgent matter.

He said the scales could be used for commercial purposes and cited bay and coal weighing as an example.

Epidemic mild, MDs co-operate

Lindsay Health Nurse, Miss E. Lowe reported at a summer study of Boston supermarkets shows that half the lettuce headed for Boston, for example, disappears by the time the housewife buys it.

The rest...which she has paid for...is trimmed away and discarded. But the Boston shopper pays freight on the full 100 per cent.

James B. Moore, of the Container Corporation of America, told UPI that "apparently is another vegetable pointing up the bill from farm to family table is mainly to blame, in his opinion."

Lynda Johnson, Nancy Robertson sing two duets at WI meeting

A large crowd of members and visitors attended the August 26th meeting of the Kawartha Valley W.I. It was held at the home of Mrs. Wm. Embury.

The president, Mrs. Clinton Parker, was in the chair. The roll call - "What best thing in life are free" - was well responded to. The usual reports were given, and minutes read.

Our motto was - "We have one life to live; let us make it beautiful," and our programme followed that theme.

Claims some Germans prefer the Communist system

By Joseph Fleming
UPI's Berlin Bureau

It's generally assumed in the free world that all Germans would throw off the Communist yoke if they could.

That must then be a safe foregone conclusion. But it is not all of them. Some Germans prefer the communist system.

This has become obvious from reports both from East German Communist officials and authorities in Free West Germany.

Their figures call attention to the fact that not all the "defecting" traffic in Germany is from east to west.

Figures released by the Communist say about 12,000 East Germans have moved over to East Germany this year. And West German officials say the figure is probably accurate.

However, ... West Germany points out that many more East Germans - 115,000 in fact - have fled to West Germany during the same period.

One German who voluntarily went into the Communist zone, Paul Heinrich, says "I did not wish to live any longer in a state that was preparing for a civil war."

Another says he fled from West Germany because he did not want to be conscripted into the Army. The Communists assert that roughly one-third of the West Germans who go East do so to escape military service.

But this might be jumping out of the frying pan into the fire. East Germany has an army, too. There is no official draft, but East German youths who refuse to "volunteer" for military service usually find schools and jobs are barred to them.

Other West Germans who have left for the Communist East are quoted along the same lines as Heinrich. They refused to play, they say, in a nation ruled by "war criminals" or they went east to "work for peace."

Statements of those like Heinrich are couched in such Communist jargon that it is obvious the words have been put into their mouths.

The West German Government says many of the defectors are elderly people who fled west after the war and are returning now to spend their last years in their home town.

Others are said to be returning to families they left when they fled from the Communist zone and went through the Berlin freedom gate.

It's obvious that some of those who move to East Germany are Communist sympathizers. Economic reasons rarely exist for booming West Germany has a great labor shortage. And even the Communists admit West Germany has a higher standard of living which they must catch up to.

Many West Germans who move east are believed to be disillusioned by what they find. The West German Government says about 70 per cent return home in a matter of weeks.

So the odds are that Heinrich and his fellow defectors someday will again be asked to go over to Communism.

Elizabeth McCullough

Elizabeth Annie McCullough of 90 St. Paul St., Lindsay, passed away at her home on August 5, 1960, in her 85th year. Her death was caused by a sudden heart attack.

The deceased is survived by three daughters, Pearl (Mrs. Arthur Gilkinson), Mary (Mrs. Leo Carlin), and Alice (Mrs. Ken Hutchinson) all of Lindsay. Three sons, Ivan, Harry and Arthur, all of Lindsay, also survive her. She is also survived by a brother, Wesley Lywood of Newwood, and Henry and Louis Porter, of Lindsay.

The funeral took place on August 8, 1960 at 2 p.m. from the Mackay Funeral Home, Rev. O. C. Locke of the Presbyterian Church conducted the service. Interment was at the Riverside Cemetery.

The pallbearers were Earl Argue, John Langdon, Lathorne Lywood, Tom Porter, Gerald Hutchinson and Leo O'Keefe.

By West German authorities this time ... why they decided to go over to Communism.

Now's the time to pick fields to use to retool next spring, says Dr. Jack Winch, forage researcher at OAC. Select fields where you want a long term mixture (4 or more years), or where conditions are too wet for alfalfa. Plow early and weed the field to clean up weeds. If it's a field that you don't work too often because of erosion, you might plant oats. They may add some extra late fall pasture too.

Maritimers Have Fun at the Fair

Agricultural exhibits and contests are of top importance at the Hants County Exhibition in Windsor, Nova Scotia. The midway which dominates many fairs takes a back seat here. "This is the most farm-minded fair in the business," claims Watson Macneave, secretary-treasurer of the Windsor Agricultural Society. "We haven't become a midway town. You know well, indeed."

In farming communities across Canada the annual fair is awaited with enthusiasm and excitement. Patchwork quilts receive their last stitches, favourite recipes are dug out and the farm's best livestock is groomed and pampered for the day the judges award their ribbons. Impatient children eagerly talk about the rides, treats and exotic adobe houses that bring dandelions from big cities and respite from distant lands. For the townfolk it is a time to meet old friends from neighbouring communities who may not have seen each other since last year's fair.

Canada's first agricultural fair was held in Windsor, Nova Scotia, in 1765, were 100 years before Confederation. In this historic Annapolis Valley town Canada's oldest Exhibition prepares for its annual autumnal excitement. For decades with hands signal the opening of the fair where lavish displays of fruit, flowers, vegetables, poultry and livestock await the decision of the judges. At every moment there's something to do or see at this exhibition. Besides the many exhibits, there are plowing contests, ox and tractor pulls and tug-of-war that send the loaves tumbling into the bell-dug earth and the winning team home with the hundred dollar kitty.

Since 1915 the Federal Department of Agriculture has granted money to Canadian fairs. Last year financial assistance in 111 fairs totalled about one million dollars. This money is used for the construction and repair of exhibition buildings, for paying judges and for cash awards. Fair fairs are the showcase for Canadian agriculture and a time for assessing the health of one of Canada's major primary industries.

The saying "strong as an ox" comes to life in the fair's oldest contest, 78-year-old Arthur Lapole, urges his powerful animal to drag a weighted sled. Last year Watson's 2810-pound team won top honours when it pulled 8600 pounds.

Twenty-seven-year-old Raymond Jackson walked into a restaurant with the cat over his shoulder... ordered a glass of milk... then held it up for the cat to drink. The proprietor took exception and Jackson was charged with causing a disturbance. NOT CONCEALED?

POWERS' BETS REPERM

CONVICT U-2 PILOT OF SPYING

Moscow, Aug. 15.—(UPI)—U-2 pilot Francis powers has been sentenced to 10 years in prison in Moscow today.

A military court found his guilty of spying when he flew his reconnaissance plane over the Soviet Union last May.

Judge Viktor Borzhegorsky read the hand-written verdict and sentence to a packed courtroom after a three-day trial.

No judicial appeal from the sentence is possible, but Powers could appeal to the 14-man Presidium of the Supreme Soviet Parliament for clemency.

Powers stood gripping the railing of the prisoner's dock as the judgment was read. It took half an hour.

Stormy applause greeted the sentence.

The 31-year-old pilot could have received a death sentence but prosecutor Roman Rudenko recommended that his life be spared. Rudenko had asked the three-man court—there was no jury—to give Powers 15 years in prison.

Powers made a last minute personal plea to the court.

The filed asked the judges to consider that he was led into his "grave crime" deeply regretting it, never bore any animosity toward the Russian people and that his mission failed. "No secret information reached its destination," he told the court.

One of the American officers accompanying Powers family to Moscow revealed just before the Rasau Jope that Mrs. Barbara Powers—the pretty 25-year-old wife of the pilot—wants to remain in Russia during her husband's prison term.

Powers exchanged a few words with his Soviet-appointed attorney, Mikhail Grinev, as the court adjourned. He did not shake hands with his counsel nor did he look in the direction of his family.

His prison term is to start in five months May 1 when he was deported while flying the U-2 over Sweden in Siberia on what the American Government acknowledged was an intelligence mission.

Powers had pleaded guilty and told a full story of his employment by the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency and of his flight.

The text of the court's verdict reads:

"Deprivation of liberty for 10 years of which the first three are to be served in prison. The term is to begin from May 1. The sentence is final and not subject to appeal."

The Powers Trial

Eisenhower's reaction meeting with family comment on satellite

Washington, August 15.—(UPI)—President Dwight D. Eisenhower's reaction to the trial of Francis Powers, the spy pilot, was a meeting with his family and a comment on the satellite.

The White House said the President and Secretary of State have been following the case and the trial very closely and they are not interested to drop it.

Press Secretary James Hagerty declined to amplify the statement. However, high government sources said it meant that the United States Government will do all it can to seek a reduction of Powers' 10-year prison sentence or his eventual release.

Moscow, Aug. 15.—(UPI)—Powers was reunited with his wife and family for a brief period Friday immediately after his sentence was read.

His 25-year-old wife, Barbara, his parents, and his sister, were admitted to a small chamber behind the stage of the trial room.

Powers wept during the reunion. It was the first time he had talked with a Westerner, let alone his family, since his U-2 plane was downed on May 1st.

Moscow, Aug. 15.—(UPI)—U-2 pilot Francis Powers' Defense Attorney Mikhail Grinev told him Friday during the trial's recess about the successful launching of a new Soviet space satellite.

Tass said Powers passed in the middle of his after-dinner grapes and commented "that's wonderful news."

WHY CAN'T THEY LEAVE IS ALONE?

The "Flag line" is back in the news again. It seems this subject is doomed to be a continuing one despite efforts at the highest government levels to assure Canadians that they already have a distinctive Canadian flag which has adequately served the nation for many years.

Latest effort to unseat the Canadian flag was formally approved by Order-in-Council at Ottawa as appropriate to be flown on national occasions, comes from St. Catharines. The council of that city is endeavouring to open the controversy again by circulating various other councils with a resolution calling on the federal government to choose a distinctive Canadian flag.

We are happy to see that London's council gave the resolution a cool reception, agreeing that the general consensus of opinion is that the Canadian Red Ensign is "our flag." The letter concluding the resolution was "our flag." Why can't they leave this alone? It is a dead one, has had several respectable funerals and must surely be getting weary of being repeatedly resurrected from the grave.

PE-BDM NEEDS SELLING

Smart Armour, Economic Adviser to The Steel Company of Canada Limited, had some interesting things to say in a recent speech to the Advertising and Sales Executive Club in Montreal. Mr. Armour said that while it is grossly unfair to label advertising and sales executives as greedy, in the grey flannel suit, the fact remains that "the man in the grey flannel suit" is today, in the minds of many millions of North American consumers, a symbol of something sinister and reprehensible. The attackers and detractors always choose to ignore the fact that the salesman has been the most potent civilizing agent in the history of mankind. Also ignored is the fact that without effective advertising the salesman would have been a far less effective civilizing agent than has been the case.

That having said all this, Mr. Armour "and having said it with greatest sincerity, I still find myself wondering if you have done your full part in preserving the Canadian way of life which you have done so much to create."

"Everybody who is capable of objective observation will admit that you have done an outstanding job in the general acceptance of the products of our free enterprise system. But what have you as an industry done toward promoting acceptance of the system itself?"

Canadian bankers, cabinet ministers, commercial bankers, life insurance executives, investment bankers, and even a few manufacturers and other businessmen have spoken out eloquently about the perils to free enterprise and personal freedom implicit or explicit in existing legislation, or in current proposals for more legislation."

Mr. Armour then addressed his audience as if they had done to make the people of Canada realize that only through a continuance of free enterprise can they continue to enjoy the fruits of personal freedom.

Had your enormous power been applied to the task of making manifest to the people of this country the connection between Statism and the curtailment of their personal freedom would we now find ourselves hearing such a heavy burden of government expense? When we Canadians are told that we are living beyond our means, surely it is meant is that we have erected a government structure too big for our real needs. By asking government to do things for us we should have done for ourselves, or by permitting government to arrogate to itself functions which a free society is should never have assumed, we have now got to the point where almost one-fifth of our production goes to support the State."

C. C. of C. News Letter.

WHAT IS YOUR OPINION OF HORMONES TAKEN DURING THE MENOPAUSE?

Dear Dr. Steiner: "First let me say a fervent 'God bless the breast' with compassion which is woven through your column which I read with the greatest interest and respect."

(NOTE: Thank you, Mrs. C. You sent me the other letter I received on the same day to your letter which began: "You think you were too abrupt and unfeeling in your reply to Mrs. X." It proves the truth of the old saying: "You can't please everybody.")

I would appreciate having your opinion on the value of hormones taken during the menopause. Four women I know have had hysterectomies (removal of uterus) in recent years: one has a doctor who insists she must take hormones or her tissues do not "dry out" and become easily irritated.

The second woman takes no hormones and her doctor prescribes none. The third takes hormones, but has been plagued with bursts. The fourth woman takes no hormones and has no bursts.

None of them suffer from hot flashes and all are fairly well. My question is: these women must one take hormones while the others do not? Some doctors tell us to leave hormone pills alone unless one gets really miserable and dreadfully depressed. Why?

Would hormones help the woman who has begun to have bursts? I shall be grateful for an answer. Sincerely, Mrs. C. Maryland.

ANSWER: I think there is only one common reason why some doctors do not prescribe hormones during the menopause. They fear that such treatment may make their patients susceptible to cancer.

Nothing in my own experience, or what I read in the medical literature, indicates that such anxiety is well-founded. There is no accepted proof that if you take hormones during the menopause you are more liable to get cancer.

Why allow a woman to go on suffering with hot flashes, nervousness, irritability, depression when estrogen (female hormones) — taken under her doctor's supervision — will so often make her comfortable?

I agree that hormones should not be prescribed for every woman who reaches her menopause. At least two-thirds have no symptoms at all. Nor should they be given to those who complain of hot flashes, nervousness, irritability, depression, or who are fish. If these are bearable, I do not advise hormones.

But show me the woman who is distressed and really having a hard time of it, and I will not hesitate to prescribe hormones. Perhaps a sedative, too. I have known some excellent obstetricians and internists who were dead set against prescribing hormones no matter

Sheet sticks, motor seizes

A sheet getting caught in a washing machine ringer was the cause of a call for Lindsay from Monday.

Fronten answered the alarm to the home of Carl Hurlbut, 27 Glenview Street, shortly after eight a.m.

Damage was very slight. The sheet stuck to the machine, but the motor to seize and smoke, but there were no flames.

how miserable their patients were. I could scarcely get myself around to that kind of thinking. Most doctors are more open-minded about it now than they were a dozen years ago.

As for your question, Mrs. C, about the value of female hormones in treating bursts — I am unaware that such treatment is of any use.

Little rest for royalty

Queen faces busiest three months of career

A UPI Feature
For Women

Queen Elizabeth, now on holiday with her family at ancient Balmoral Castle in the Scottish Highlands, already is deeply engaged in plans for her busiest twelve months since she came to the throne eight years ago.

The Queen is scheduled to pay official visits to six different countries during 1961 and several other overseas tours are in negotiation, to be formally announced from Buckingham Palace later this year.

In January the Queen and Prince Philip are going to visit India and Pakistan, arriving by air on the 21st and staying until March. Before they leave the Royal travellers will have a short holiday at Sanda in the hills where the former victor's of India spent hot-summer holidays in great palaces. Then the Queen and Prince Philip will fly to the Perlas to pay a state visit to the Shah in Teheran, returning to London about the end of March.

After a state visit to the Shah, the Queen is scheduled to state visit to Italy to take place. Exact dates have yet to be announced, so that the matters the Queen is now considering in Scotland - but early May is spoken of as the likely choice.

A visit to the Vatican is being arranged so that the Queen might have an audience with the Pope.

It has already been announced that in November next the Queen and Prince Philip will visit Ghana, Sierra Leone and Gambia. And it is being rumored that a long tour of duty is being considered. A press secretary from Canberra, William Hestle-thing, has been serving at the Queen's side for some months now and this is usually the preliminary practice on such occasions so that he can be included in the Queen's entourage when the travel, to handle local press and publicity matters. The Queen and her husband were laid "down under" only in 1954 when they made their long Commonwealth tour following the Coronation the previous June.

An announcement of a state visit to Bangkok is also expected in the future. It's known that King Bhumibol and Queen Sirikit extended an open invitation to the Queen and Prince Philip when they were entertained in London recently and it would be comparatively easy for them to "drop off" en route to Australia for a few days.

It is a formidable program requiring highly elaborate organization. And personal considerations are heavy too. The Queen needs clothes for all climates and occasions and they must be ordered well in advance. Her elaborate court gowns with their exquisite hand embroideries take weeks to make. Accessories often have to be specially manufactured to go with different outfits.

Then the Queen must attend to educational and domestic matters concerning the Prince of Wales, Princess Anne and Prince Andrew in her absence. She also has to select her courtiers - the equerries, secretaries and ladies-in-waiting from the Royal Household - who will travel with her so they can prepare in good time.

The "vacationing" Queen is a busy lady.

This sign was spotted on the back of an automobile in Dallas, Texas. "No hawk. The hunter 1 fly on the bandier 1 get."

But take the back road
but driver
is convicted of carelessness

Lindsay Magistrate R. I. Moore, awarded a popular small-sized European car a "dangerous contraption to drive" in court this morning. He was referring to a German made car, but he didn't mention on his statement and he convicted the operator.

The court was hearing a case of careless driving against Kenneth Fennison of Aurora at the time.

The accused told the court that he was driving his small car, which he had owned for over a year when the trouble arose. He resound a corner and saw a tractor with a trailer, and another car, both parked on the side of the road a little way ahead. He said he tried to swerve and blamed the small car's handling and the dangerous situation on his partly responsible for his going out of control.

The car went off the shoulder, and passed the truck and vehicles on the right hand side, striking Earl Mountford on the foot but the boat, actually came out on top. When things had settled down, the car was submerged with water up to its windows.

But all's well that ends well, even if it's a wet ending and Beach last evening when the principal damage is a wet car's brake lines suddenly washed inside and out that the failed. Both men jumped overboard hadn't planned for the clear but the boat, trailer and car.

Noticed along the way

Anthony Diebrink of 102 Churchill Crescent, Lindsay, has his car back on dry land after a brief underwater voyage.

Mr. Diebrink and a friend were backing a boat trailer to Sturgeon Lake at Sunday, 23 Howard Avenue and had to cross quite a number of small smoke stacks to gain calms.

Fennison discovered that the smoke sometimes drove up a cold chimney, and the smoke, instead of going up the chimney, had backed out into the first time, particularly the house. Fennison Babcock

Smoke didn't go up chimney, firemen are called in

A smoke-filled house caused, and Jones answered the alarm a quick call to Lindsay firemen about 7:55 p.m. last night.

Fire Chief Arnold Watson, the home of Alan Spenser at 13 Howard Avenue and had to cross quite a number of small smoke stacks to gain calms.

The cause seems to be that the smoke sometimes drove up a cold chimney, and the smoke, instead of going up the chimney, had backed out into the first time, particularly the house. Fennison Babcock

A newspaper, unlike a camel can't go long without water

A newspaper, unlike a camel, can't go too many hours without water and when its supply is threatened, something has to be done to restore the supply.

A section of downtown water was without water for several hours this afternoon when waterworks employees completely replacing a section of main and installing fittings. It was a finish up job of the enlarged main installed earlier when William St. North was replaced.

Eileen McLaughlin makes a presentation to Florence Collins

Blackstock (PNS) — Eighteen members of the O.N.G. Club attended the August meeting at the home of Mrs. Wilma Van Camp. Several items of interest were dealt with. It was decided to have a Halloween party for the children.

On behalf of the club, Eileen McLaughlin presented Florence Collins with a cup and saucer. The hell call "If I had $1000 I would spend it on you," brought a variety of replies.

But Do You Really UNDERSTAND the Bible?

Many people maintain that the Bible is so simple and clear that anyone can understand it.

Yet today the Christian world is divided into conflicting opinions as to what the Bible means. Some are equally torn by the same words, and there are many Christians who which disagree on basic Bible questions.

Who wants to understand the Bible, find all this confusing... wondering which interpretation to accept, whom to believe. The result is that the Bible often appears dark to the family household, when it should be bringing joy to the family home.

Catholic, of course, join with Christians everywhere in praising the complete Bible as the inspired Word of God. It could not be otherwise, for it was the Catholic Church which assembled the books of the Bible nearly 1000 years ago, and which preserved in precious language no parchment for a thousand years before the invention of the printing press.

It is unfortunate, however, that some of the most devoted Bible students do not understand it. As a matter of fact, Holy Scripture is seldom correctly understood unless we have Christian testimony.

In writing the New Testament, the authors used an account that a knowledge of God's revelation already possessed. The books they wrote were intended to instruct and confirm teachings already known—to assure someone's security in the unknown. When you have this preliminary knowledge, the Bible is no longer a mystery.

Mrs. Muriel Thompson, who is sponsored by the WMS to serve in Africa as a missionary, was presented with a gift by Miss Jean Carr, of Wolfe Island, followed, as has been teaching public school, and will now prepare for further service by entering the Indian Training School.

Important contributions to the School were made by Dr. E. E. Long, on the Ecumenical Aspect of the Church's Life; and Dr. Osborn, Principal of the College, who gave an important address on the beautiful chapel, prior to the Vespers service. Mrs. F. W. K. Harris, of Brockville, conducted the daily Bible study group; evening worship service was led by the WMS Bay of Quinte Conference president, Mrs. B. H. Seger, of Smith Falls; the past president, Mrs. H. McQuinn, of Brockville, Miss Nettie Burrows, Dean of the Indian Residential School, and Miss Ethel Horton, of Belleville acted as secretary for the School.

Miss Christine Barter, recently retired Principal of Teachers' Training College, Indian Residential School, was the first woman to come to the school for the first time when she herself first thought of becoming a missionary. She had been too had been led step by step to her field of endeavor by the WMS Bay of Quinte. After 38 years of service in India, and six trips around the world, she has retired as an employee of the WMS. She stressed the need and desire of the Indian people for missionaries from Canada.

Concluding the inspiring evening was Mrs. John Collins, missionary to Angola, Africa, pronounced the benediction in English, and then in French. The week was spent in study and warm fellowship. Mrs. W. F. Young, of Brockville, presided at the first service, and 56 ladies from 16 to 20 years of service in India, and six trips around the world, she has retired as an employee of the WMS. SKATING CHAMPS TAKE CANADIAN TIRE IN 3 STRAIGHT Vicking won the Lindsay Canadian Tire Men's Softball championship. Monday Daynes pitched two for 1960 in three straight games when they edged by ed four hits, walked three and fanned four. In relief, Gord Park. Canadian Tire made a double in the fifth inning from behind a 4-0 deficit at the end of the second, to tie the game at four in the fifth. Vicking pitched what proved to be the winning run in the sixth and hung on to wind up the two hits, one out.

Five hits and Canadian Tire's two errors in the first two innings gave Vicking Park, Frank Hodgson, and Monday Daynes a single each. The two errors were in the sixth and hung on to wind up the game. A double in the fifth that proved harmless, and a run scoring single in the sixth was all the Vicking batters collected the rest of the way but Vicking pitched out.

Monday Daynes started for Vicking but needed help in the third inning. Three singles, a walk, and an error had three in, two on, and one out when Rich Groleau was called to the rescue. Groleau put on fire with a strike out the next two batters. Craig Case came back after pitching eight innings Monday night and after a shaky start pitched effectively for the rest of the way. Last night's game again produced several spectacular fielding plays by Guy Hodgson for Vicking and Paul Breese for Pearson scored on an infield

Agricultural exhibits and contests are of top importance at the Hants County Exhibition in Windsor, Nova Scotia. The midway which dominates many fairs takes a back seat here. This is the most farm-minded fair in the business," claims Watson Munner, secretary-treasurer of the Windsor Agricultural Society. "We have become a traditional 24th Nova Scotia, rather."

In farming communities across Canada the annual fair is awaited with enthusiasm and excitement. Patchwork quilts receive their last stitches, favorite recipes are dug out and the farm's best livestock is groomed and pampered for the day the judges award their ribbons. Impatient children eagerly talk about the rides, treats and exotic showstalls that bring carefree fun from big cities and regions from distant lands. For the townsfolk it is a time to meet old friends from neighboring communities who may not have seen each other last year's fair.

Canada's first agricultural fair was held in Windsor, Nova Scotia, in 1765, over 100 years before Confederation. In this historic Annapolis Valley town Canada's oldest Exhibition prepares for its annual traditional excitement. Pardon wet heads signed the opening of the fair where kind displays of fruits, flowers, vegetables, poultry and livestock await the decision of the judges. At every moment there's something to do for us at this exhibition. Besides the many exhibits, there are plowing contests, ox and tractor pulls and tug-of-war that send the latest tractors into the bed-dog earth and the winning team home with the hundred dollar trophy.

Since 1915 the Federal Department of Agriculture has granted money to Canadian fairs. Last year financial assistance to 111 fairs totalled about one million dollars. This money is used for the construction and repair of exhibition buildings, for paying judges and for cash awards. Fair fairs are the showcase for Canadian agriculture and the place for assessing the harvest of one of Canada's major primary industries.

Skilled fingers weave quick trips into bundles for sale at the fair. Abraham Bartlett is a member of the Micmac Tribe of the Annapolis Indians which once welcomed Indian Cubes to the Acadia show in 1499.

The saying "arrog as an ox" comes to life as the fair's oldest contestant, 78-year-old Arthur Layton, urges his powerful animal to drag a weighted sled. Last year Chas Watkin's 280-pound team won top honours when it pulled 8600 pounds.

Many children show their prize animals and compete for awards just like grownups. Nevertheless you needn't win a silver cup or blue ribbon to have fun at the fair. The hours of the Hants County Fair has something for everyone.

I can't understand why we can't go far behind and it doesn't show in the clerk of works' report," said Colleen Moore.

Chairman E. N. Gregory said that the delay was due to a number of factors and to a certain extent possible the painters were responsible for much of the delay.

New purification plant open to public inspection

Water purification plant in London, Ontario, is open to public inspection.

Water could have been more than the weather for the "open house" held yesterday at the new water purification plant in London, Ontario. The plant, which is the first of its kind in the province, was opened to the public by the Ontario Ministry of the Environment, which is in charge of the project. The plant is located on the south side of the city, near the intersection of the highway and the river. It is a large, modern building with a tall chimney. The plant is designed to treat the water from the river before it is pumped into the city's water supply. The plant is expected to be in full operation by the end of the year. The public is invited to visit the plant at any time. For more information, contact the Ontario Ministry of the Environment.

Lindsay Newman, of the Ontario Ministry of the Environment, is in the boat with the water.

Noticed along the way

On the Farm Front
The Canada Department of Agriculture reports that beetles may become a common pest in Canada's stored cereals. The beetles, closely related to the Knappe Beetle and the familiar Carpet Beetle.

The warning comes from S. R. Lockwood of the Canada Department of Agriculture's Research Station. First reports in Canada in 1958 at a post in warehouse and four miles in southern Alberta.

Later it was found in grain samples and four miles in Saskatchewan. Although not as dangerous as the Knappe Beetle, the beetles multiply rapidly and apparently adapt quickly to Canada's climate.

How are we going to control it? The Canada Department of Agriculture says that promising results have been achieved by spraying wood surfaces with a five per cent solution of malathion at one gallon per one thousand square feet.

But good housekeeping practices in mills, warehouses and farm granaries are considered the best means of protecting stored products.

The full-grown larva is a grublike creature about three-eighths of an inch long, slender body is yellowish and covered with reddish-brown spots. The adult is an oval, black beetle about one-eighth of an inch long.

The larvae is what causes the most damage of all. It eats all the kernels but leaves the seeds of grain, cereals, vegetables and legumes. It also eats stored products of high protein in grain.

It can chew holes through insect-proof material more than one-half inch thick.

Inspects that fit this description should be sent to the Canada Department of Agriculture for identification and to determine the distribution and abundance of this beetle.

REARBORN BARN FIRE DEFIES FIREMEN TO PUT IT OUT

Once again firemen brought the flames under control and then the well dry. A quick call for help was made to Genneth which with fresh tank of water, managed to extinguish the fire. After the barn had pretty well burnt to the ground.

After a four-and-a-half-hour battle, the flames returned after about seven p.m. Two and a half hours later the fire was called out and the barn was left in ruins. The fire was caused by a short circuit in the barn's electrical system.

Nothing damaged, the main barn was left standing. It was learned at 11.50 p.m. that there were no crops or other valuable equipment in the barn at the time of the fire.

Races, "hose-bail" feature Mutual Aid's annual picnic

It was firemen's fun day Sunday as about 100 Victoria County Mutual Aid firemen gathered for their annual picnic.

Lindsay Freeman St. Ferguson and his picnic committee planned a full program of races and recreation for the day.

This included rack races, three-legged races and some even more spectacular events.

One which aroused considerable enthusiasm was an egg-throwing contest for couples.

The crowd also saw some exciting tug-of-war for men, women and children. The picnic was held at the Victoria Park in Fenelon Falls.

Relics of the Giant Dinosaur are still being found in the area.

Feel You Feel Well Isn't Proof You Are

So many people say: Why should I go for a physical checkup? I never feel better! I know I must be healthy! That is not always true. Like "pride goeth before a fall," so does "well-being often go before sickness."

One who is not trying to make hypochondriacs out of you loyal readers: Just realize who I am. I am a doctor. That health is something you have to care about (in the sense of taking care of it while you have it).

In the frontpages of a book I wrote some years ago (now out of print and perhaps in your public library) "More Years for the Aching—1" quoted Dr. Thomas Parran, Surgeon General of the United States.

"It would be possible to add ten years to the average life span of people living in the United States if we made full use of the scientific knowledge now available."

With all the advances we have made recently in diagnosis and treatment, that statement is not even true today. Yet thousands of people still stay away from their doctors for this possible cause.

Why? In my experience, here are some reasons:

One, you think it will do no good, anyway. You are a fatalist. You believe what you have heard whatever you do about it.

Two, you say medical treatment is too expensive. You can't afford it. Why pay for a checkup when you are apparently well?

Three, you say you haven't the time. You are too busy to sit in your doctor's office for hours, reading old magazines.

Four, you are afraid to learn that you may have something seriously wrong with you.

Five, you are just a plain procrastinator. You want to go, but you just keep putting it off.

Where do you fit in, Mr. Reader? Let's take up these reasons one by one.

If you are a procrastinator, I hope today's column is the first that tips the balance in favor of a call to your doctor for an appointment—even for those you feel well. When you come away with the actual assurance that you ARE well—you will be surprised at the lift it gives you.

Are you a fatalist? Then you are a gambler. And the odds are high: your life. If you think you'll live as long with heart disease or cancer as you have it all to file—then "comes the inevitable damn" when you beg for help, but it's too late.

You haven't the time? You know that isn't a valid excuse. Two or three hours out of an entire year for a physical checkup? Time is precious—but never so precious as when there is little left because of illness that might have been prevented.

Too expensive? You can't afford it? Rich or poor, you can get adequate treatment elsewhere. In the fashionable office or in the hospital outpatient clinic, there are able and kind doctors. Whoever you are, you can afford the yearly physical. It is the cheapest premium you will ever have to pay for anything.

Too scared to go? Afraid of being told what you suspect? That really has heart disease, cancer, diabetes, etc.—not to worry with "The greatest anxiety comes from 'not knowing.' Learn the truth. More often than you realize, your doctor's verdict will be NOT GUILTY rather than GUILTY. It's wonderful to learn that you are well when you are sure you are sick. If he does find something, be grateful he found it early. It is much better to have TMD at the side of one and on the side of disease.

Weather ideal for fair harvest too, attendance off

Blackstock (PNS)—The weather was ideal on Saturday for the Annual Cartwright Fair and also for harvesting so the good receipts were down slightly, but a very fine fair was held nevertheless.

Friday evening a good crowd attended the "Go-Kart" races which were considered most successful.

There was a large exhibit of farm horses, some having come from Rythe and Rosebridge. The light horse exhibit was down slightly as some of the local horses at this class were at Toronto Exhibition.

Leslie Taylor was the chief exhibitor of Swine. The club held their achievement day.

Leafs pitcher Frank Funk joins Cleveland Indians

Toronto —(UPI)— The Toronto Maple Leafs pennant-winning pitching staff has been weakened slightly by the loss of right-hander Frank Funk, who will join the American League Cleveland Indians today.

Funk, who is celebrating his 25th birthday by moving to the Majors for the first time, started a six-win and three-loss record with the Leafs this season, including a seven-inning no-hitter.

Funk will replace Gary Bell, of the Indians, who is out with a sore shoulder. Funk ordinarily pitches in relief but with an increased variety of tosses through his training with the Leafs, the big right-hander will likely start for the tribe.
